

Money Money!

April 1, 09

"Why can't I have money any more?" Makayla complained to her mom. It was a bright sunny Saturday afternoon and Makayla was thinking about getting a job or having a lemonade stand. "I know what I will do! I will sell cupcakes to earn my own money!" Then she ran down to the kitchen to tell her mom what she had thought of and to tell her dad. "Mom do we have spare wood?" "Yes, we do honey," her mom said. Then she ran to the front lawn to make a stand for her cupcakes that she would sell in front of her house.

When she was done, she went to the A&P to get ingredients for her cupcakes. The A&P had Millions and Millions of food in one aisle. Makayla was as she was entering the scrumptious world of food. She brought eggs, milk, batter, icing, and a bowl. When she was in line, she thought about what she should buy when she got money. "I know what I should buy," Makayla was in her mind. "A D&D Next, Next, Next!" The cashier said as Makayla was day dreaming. "Oh, I'm sorry, I was thinking about... um, school, yes, school Makayla said. "Ok, that will be $5.00" The cashier said. "Here you go. Now to open my stand."

"Ok, the tables are set and my stand were open."
"Time for dinner!" Makayla. Her mom said when she was just about to open. "Can I eat tomorrow? Please?" Makayla said. "What are you going to eat? Cupcakes?" Her dad said, "I won't eat." Makayla mumbled under her breath. Then she went inside. Unfortunately, she never had a chance to sell the cupcakes.

The next morning, at 6:00, Makayla's dad said, "Time for school. We live far so you have to get up for breakfast." "Tump, thump, thump." Her feet went when she was going down stairs. "How much is a PS mom?" Makayla suddenly asked. But her mom just said "no." "What do you mean mom? I wasn't asking for it, I just want to know." Makayla said "Still, no. You are not going to get one." Her dad said "Why?" Makayla asked "Because we can't afford batteries." Her mom said, "It doesn't run on batteries! It runs with a charger!" Makayla bursted out. "$179.00." Her dad said. "Thank you dad." she said. Then she gave them a kiss. "Bye." Her mom said before she went outside.

When Makayla got to school, her head started to hurt because she was worried about making enough money. "Can I go to the nurse?" Makayla asked her teacher. "Why? Does your head hurt? Or your stomach?" Her teacher asked. "My head hurts." Makayla said painfully. "Tell me if it hurts in five minutes, then you can go. But, for now you can get a drink of water," her teacher said. "Ok," Makayla's teacher said "let's go to gym."

When Makayla got home, she found a letter on the fridge. It was from her mom. It said: "Honey, The cupcake stand got ruined by the rain and I know you were working hard so, I want you to have this. $179.00 for the DS1." Then Makayla ran to the Game Shop and brought her new DS1.

The End