Six Flags!!!

When we were driving it seemed like forever. We finally got to Six flags. When the door opened sunlight hit my face. It was summer vacation. It was also burning hot. A few fuzzy clouds filled the entire sky. When we passed the freezing pitch black gate the smell of icecream filled the air. We met up with my cousins Melissa and Alax. We past a bunch of cool rides.

We went on this one ride it towered over everything. We went on it. When we got to the top I looked down. It felt like I was jumping off the empire state building. We were like 200 ft up in the air. We plunged down at 75 mph. It was all a blur I could not

See anything else besides the tracks. My cousin was screaming like a girl. When it was all over I was really really really tired.
