

LA

Summer

5th

Dustin Ferrone recently suffered a severe head trauma due to a sledding accident. He had to go through neurosurgery but came through remarkably well. There were no permanent injuries.

Dustin's parents want other parents to be aware of the danger of sledding without a helmet. Dustin and his brother have already asked to go sledding again, but their mom isn't allowing it this winter. They want the message of sledding safety to get across to other parents.